About Us

The Political Settlements Research Programme (PSRP) is centrally concerned with how political settlements can be made more inclusive of those affected by them so as to make them more stable and effective. In particular, the programme examines the relationship between stability and inclusion, sometimes understood as a relationship between peacemaking and justice.

The programme is addressing three broad research questions relating to political settlements:

1. How do different types of political settlement emerge, and what are the actors, institutions, resources, and practices that shape them?
2. How can political settlements be improved by internally-driven initiatives, including the impact of gender-inclusive processes and rule of law institutions?
3. How, and with what interventions, can external actors change political settlements?

The PSRP involves a consortium of five organisations, the Global Justice Academy University of Edinburgh (lead partner) Conciliation Resources (CR), The Institute for Security Studies (ISS), The Rift Valley Institute (RVI), and the Transitional Justice Institute (TJI, University of Ulster).
